

Introducing Online Education from Bodypoint®

Online education allows convenient access 24 hours a day and the ability to learn at one's own pace. Our goal at Bodypoint is to provide easy to understand principles to help improve stability and function in seating with the use of primary and secondary supports. Accreditation for these courses is provided by the University of Pittsburgh-Department of Rehabilitation Science and Technology. These courses are offered free to therapists, rehab technology suppliers and other seating professionals for a limited time. Check it out at www.bodypoint.com
